WHEAT AND THE CANADIAN DOLLAR

Last week the Canadian dollar was worth five cents and a half of a cent more than a United States dollar in New York! Not a very large premium, but enough to make it worth while to ship gold to Canada, instead of depending upon trade exchanges to pay debts to us!

To financiers it was an important thing, as proving that for the moment the United States were buying from us rather than we were selling to us—which is certainly unusual.

The rise of the value of Canadian currency in the States is attributed to heavy purchases of Canadian wheat by U. S. millers and dealers, in spite of the import duty of forty-two cents a bushel! In addition that is to the rush of Canadian pulpwood and other raw material at this time of year, which we allow our neighbors to buy and manufacture on the other side of the line.

This furnishes another count to the argument in favor of the importance of its agricultural industry to Canada. No other native industry could have so marked an effect upon our currency.

It ought also to attract renewed attention to the milling and export value of our matchless wheat, for it will not be forgotten that the acute U. S. Government allows a liberal rebate upon the duty on our wheat, when it is imported for milling purposes.

In this way Canadian flour finds its way overseas to European countries, in United States bags and barrels, having been ground in U. S. mills. No doubt also some of our wheat goes to Europe, as Canadian, bearing a liberal admixture of inferior U. S. grain. At least such has been the contention of British and other millers.

Surely there is enough statesmanship in Canada to devise some means whereby the full value of our good Canadian wheat could be retained for Canadians!

We should be able to grind our own wheat and so compel our neighbors to buy our flour and mill offal for cattle feed, retaining the wheat export trade, and the wages for grinding and shipping in our own country.

As it is we are allowing our natural advantages and the labors of our farmers to be enriched our more wide-awake friends to the south of the international boundary.—Family Herald.

As I stepped into the office my eye was attracted to a brightly colored magazine lying on my desk. "Czechoslovakia," this much only was intelligible of the words printed on the cover, then I glanced at a memorandum phamlet lying beside it—a translation "Czechoslovakia Junior Red Cross Magazine."

Let us see what the children at the other side of the world are doing for Red Cross, I said to myself.

This very gay cover must contain something of interest to our young folks here.

As I turned over the pages referring from time to time to my translation, my attention was suddenly arrested by two very familiar words, "Calgary, Alberta." A short paragraph or two telling the story of what a Junior Red Cross member in Calgary had done to carry out the teaching and ideals of Junior Red ing for Red Cross, I said to myself.

Cross. An act of self denial on the part of a small boy in a school in Calgary, and here the Juniors of Czechoslovakia, 280,000 strong, were reading about it, learning from it how children in Canada put into practice what they learn through Junior Red Cross.

The story had been sent originally from Calgary to our own National Magazine, now copied into the Junior Red Cross Magazine of Czechoslovakia, it was travelling back to us laden with a message of hope, an encouragement from the children in a far off land.

Message—what kind of a message someone may ask? I will tell you. A great message of progress—of health and happiness. A story of young, eager, generous minds opened to a new influence, stirred by their own initiative to a new wholesomeness for themselves—to acts of kindness and love for others. This is Junior Red Cross.

In four years, the world can count 8,000,000 of its children as Junior Red Cross members—Canada counts 100,000, Alberta 75,000.

The outcome of war, the children of the world, through Junior Red Cross are at last gathered together for peace and health and happiness.

Learning health habits, learning to play the health game in school, making health an ideal, making citizenship a practice by service to others—such is Junior Red Cross. Are we going to help this movement? Are we going to see that it how children in Canada put into practice what they learn through Junior Red Cross.

BUY AT HOME SPEND YOUR MONEY IN MACLEOD

Purchases representing thousands of dollars are lost to us, to our trade, to our clerks and employees, to our laborers and artisans, to all the people of Macleod who exist on the products of their work. This money, if spent at home, would help to recreate Macleod financially, give a wider field of activities in business, would be helpful to every resident of this town.

If we purchased regularly from local merchants, this money would circulate in Macleod in a welcome manner. Our merchants merit our patronage; it is to our interest, and the duty of all of us to encourage the local merchant. He is one of us, he lives among us, he has the right to be encouraged by us, he is anxious to have our custom, and to give us satisfaction. We should under all circumstances give him preference, price for price, quality for quality. And nearly always the price that our local merchant asks is, if we compare the quality, just as cheap as that of the outside merchant.

Never purchase merchandise by catalogues from foreign houses before assuring yourself that you cannot procure the same articles, of the same quality (and frequently of better quality) at the same price from your local merchant.

LOADING TWO GRAIN CARS A MINUTE IN RECORD CANADIAN NATIONAL MOVE

DELIVERIES of grain to the lakehead by the Canadian National Railways during September just closed exceeded the combined deliveries of September, 1924, and 1923, according to grain figures issued at Winnipeg on Oct. 1st, 1925. The daily average for September, 1925, was 630 cars against the previous record of 522, established in September, 1923.

New records were made by the Canadian National in other branches of the grain movement also. Marketings during the month were 52,207,000 bushels against the previous high mark of 39,770,000, made in September, 1923. Loadings were 27,878 cars and 37,217,000 bushels during the month compared with 22,508 cars and 28,472,000 bushels in September, 1923. Total loadings on Canadian National lines to the end of September this year were 29,284 cars and 39,038,000 bushels, against 11,079 cars containing 14,632,000 bushels at the same date last year.

On several days toward the end of the month, loadings reached from 1,400 to 1,500 cars per day, which during the ten-hour working day required the loading of approximately two and a half cars per minute in order to reach this total. Reducing the time to seconds it was estimated that at least 60 bushels of grain (the contents of a farmer's wagon box) were loaded into a car on Canadian National Western lines every second during the ten-hour working day.

The heaviest week of the season by four million bushels in grain marketings closed on Oct. 1st. Loadings for the week were heavier than any previous week since the opening of the grain season by 1,200 cars or nearly one million bushels. Compared with statistics for the same period last year, the week's marketings were just twice those of 1924, while the loadings were larger by 3,837 cars, or 4,258,000 bushels.

A record week was also experienced at the lakehead, when 6,149 cars of grain were unloaded and 60 boats, carrying 13,292,000 bushels, were cleared for eastern markets. During the same week last year only 2,208 cars were unloaded and 29 boats, carrying 5,506,000 bushels, were cleared.

Canadian National loadings for the week by provinces were: 3,486,000 bushels in Manitoba; 6,970,000 bushels in Saskatchewan; 1,571,000 bushels in Alberta; making a total of 10,455,000 bushels, or 8,580 cars, for the period.

Marketings at C.N. points were: 4,167,000 bushels, Manitoba; 11,825,000 bushels, Saskatchewan; 2,220,000 bushels, Alberta; total, 17,558,000 bushels. This leaves in store at midnight Thursday in country elevators in the three provinces in the order given above: 2,649,000, 12,734,000 and 1,972,000 bushels, a total of 17,355,000 bushels in storage as compared with 6,579,000 bushels at the same date last year.

The movement west is speeding up also, as threshing progresses in the western districts, 117 cars having arrived at Vancouver during August and September. This is just 201 cars more than during the same two months last year.

Great Triumph for Alberta Butter

The greatest triumph yet by Alberta creamery butter in competition, was recorded the past week, when it was announced from London, England, that an exhibit of Alberta creamery butter, salted, made in the plant of the P. Burns Co., at Edmonton, had won first prize and gold medal in the colonial section of the London dairy show, one of the largest shows of its kind in the world. This means that this exhibit from Alberta stood ahead of all other exhibits from other parts of the British Empire, not including Britain itself.

Two other exhibits from Alberta, made from the plant of the Woodland Dairy at Edmonton, and the Innisfail Creamery, were given high commendation in the show. The first prize in the unsalted butter section went to the co-operative creameries of Regina, Sask.

In the colonial section of the show, Canada won four out of the six prizes offered for empire wide competition, and Western Canada took three out of the six. This means that Western Canada creamery butter is recognized in the most discriminating market in the world, as the highest quality produced in any of the British dominions.

The exhibits from Alberta in the salted section were made under the auspices of the dairy branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, which gave substantial assistance to the exhibitors in enabling them to make the exhibit overseas. It is the first time that Alberta has exhibited in the London show, and it is regarded as a unique triumph for the Alberta dairy industry that the gold medal came to this province, even beating out in competition the famous New Zealand dairy butter, which is made under almost perfect conditions.

Naturally, there is considerable elation among dairymen over the fact that Alberta butter has beaten the product from New Zealand. The grading systems in effect in the province have had considerable to do with the rapid improvement of quality of the butter manufactured in the plants in the province, and with this latest triumph Alberta butter is likely to be more in demand than ever in the British market, where last year a considerable quantity was sold.

Lieutenant Governor's Time Expires

The second term of Lieutenant Governor Brett, of Alberta, expired this week, but he will continue to fill the office until a new appointment is made by the government at Ottawa, which will not likely be until after the general elections this week. Dr. Brett has been in office for ten years.

Bye-Elections to be Held

Bye-elections to fill the six vacancies in the Alberta Legislature created by the resignations of members who have entered the federal field, will be held before another session, but as yet no date has been fixed for these elections. The vacancies in the house were created by the resignations of the following members: C. W. Cross, Edson; S. G. Tobin, Leduc; T. C. Milnes, Claresholm; A. B. McLennan, Edmonton. Liberals; and Dr. Stewart, Lethbridge, Conservative; and W. M. Davidson, Calgary, Independent.

Continental-Wide Phone Service

With due ceremony, the inauguration of the continent-wide phone service from Alberta was celebrated the past week, when Governor Brett, of Alberta conversed over the long distance phone with state heads in Montana, Colorado and Arizona, and with Chief Justice Anglin at Ottawa, Canada. The inauguration of this service, by which Alberta telephone subscribers will be able to converse with any point in United States and with many points in Eastern and Western Canada and on the coast, was made possible through the co-operation of the Mountain States Telephone Co., with the Alberta Government Telephones. Repeaters have been installed at Lethbridge, Calgary and Medicine Hat, and copper circuits set up from Lethbridge to the boundary at Montana, linking up with copper circuits extended north from Shelby, Montana. This has made possible the connection with the transcontinental system in the states.

In connection with the historical step taken this week by the Alberta Government Telephones, it is interesting to note that long distance service in the province has grown from 1,000,000 to 2,500,000 calls in the past ten years and that in that time, the revenue from long distance service has grown from $339,300 per annum to over $1,000,000 per annum.

The first commercial call over the new universal system was given from Edmonton on Wednesday night, when a resident of Edmonton conversed with a friend in Minneapolis, Minn.

Big Stocker Show

More than 1600 head of cattle were disposed of at the auction sale held in connection with the annual stocker and feeder show held at Calgary this week. The high price of the sale went to J. L. Walters, of Clive, whose carload won the grand championship of the show, and was sold to the Burns Co., at the rate of $7.10 per hundred. Mr. Walters' car of shorthorns which won the reserve champion, was sold at $7 per hundred. Savage Bros., of Big Valley, received $7 per hundred for a group of five steers. A carload of 20 steers owned by Usher Bros., of Scollard, went for $6.90 per hundred.

E. J. Winchcombe left on Wednesday for points in the United States on business.

Mrs. John Hollies, now of Edmonton, formerly of Macleod, is the guest of Mrs. E. A. Dunbar.

Mrs. J. Hamilton and children returned on Wednesday from a few months vacation spent at Melfort, Saskatchewan.

Miss Gladys McLeod returned on Wednesday after spending a couple of months visiting friends in Prince Edward Island.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lane and family, of St. Boswells, Sask., arrived in Macleod last week and expect to make their home here. Mrs. Lane was formerly Miss Frankie Keats.

Early Thursday morning of last week fire broke out in the barn of Phil Tolley, about twelve miles east of town, and before anything could be done to extinguish the flames the entire barn with four cows, two horses, all the harness, tools, feed grain, and ten tons of alfalfa hay, were burned to the ground. No clue as to the origin of the fire can be given. The loss will be over $4,000, with very little insurance.

On Thursday (today) at 3 p.m. the natural gas regulator on 20th street got out of order with the consequence that the gas supply was shut off automatically. The pressure was off for only about 20 minutes while repairs were effected by Mr. Pollard. The resumption of service however, was necessarily delayed during the period of time necessary to notify gas patrons so that accidents would be averted by reason of open taps.

A very successful baby clinic, under the auspices of the Local Council of Women, was held in Macleod, October 27. The department of health sent Miss Davidson, of Medicine Hat, to take charge and Miss Wardman of the Macleod hospital, assisted her. Drs. Elder and Kennedy examined the children. The extreme cold prevented a number from attending who had arranged to come, but in spite of weather conditions fifteen babies were charted.

The reduced rate on electricity goes into effect for juice consumed by patrons in October. The new rate is 16c per kilowatt as opposed to 18c formerly, and will constitute a big saving to Macleod's public on light bills—a cut of practically 11 per cent. The present council are deservous of laudation in effecting this economy for light and power patrons. The council propose to make a further reduction in rate as conditions warrant, which will probably be in the near future.

G. G. Coote, Progressive candidate, spoke in the town hall, Macleod, on Friday night last to an attentive audience, and was well received. He gave an account of his citizenship during the past four years. W. H. Shield, M.J.A., occupied the chair, calling on Stephen Lunn to tell about the farmer's organization. The Times regrets the fact that Mr. Coote's meeting occurred after the publication of last week's issue and therefore its publication would be futile this week as the election will have been over at time of going to press.

"The old meeting house" never had a greater crowd than on Sunday night gathered to see the young ladies of the United Church put on the cantata "The Challenge of the Cross." The messenger of the Cross appeared on the scene and sent out her call to the world to come and be saved. "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." The call was heard, the young women came one by one, each willing to take the Cross in their own way, each were refused, until one came and accepted the way "of the Cross," and was told what to do, and how to live, and lead others to do this in the way as given. Then the others accepted the challenge.

The mayor and council invited the public to visit the power house Tuesday afternoon and inspect the plant. At five p.m. a number were at the plant and were surprised at the completeness of the whole plant. The exhaust which for years has been wasted, is now turned into use for heating the filtration building and the power house proper, and then it is turned into the steam boilers, where it keeps the water warm, so that in the event of these being called into use it would take only a short time to get up steam; the balance is carried off through the smoke stack. One of the gas engines is fitted up to run with gasoline should the natural gas fail any time. All who visited the plant were delighted with the way everything was laid out and apparently fitted into the space that is allowed for each part to play. The intake which was built as an experiment has given entire satisfaction and has stood the high water since it was built.

ALL ADOPT IT

A clipping has been handed into The Times office by a Macleod merchant and has for its head, "My City." It is taken from the Pacific Telephone Magazine, and is as follows:

"My city is where my home is founded, where my business is situated, where my vote is cast, where my neighbors dwell and where my life is chiefly lived. It has a right to my civic loyalty. It supports me and I must support it. My city wants my friendship—not partisanship, sympathy—not indifference. My city supplies me with law and order, trade, friends, education, recreation and the rights of a free-born Canadian. I should believe in my city and work for it."

It is a true statement of fact from the first to the final word. The last sentence, however, stands out prominently, "I should believe in my city and work for it."

Each person in Macleod would do well to clip this little sermon, memorize it and then practice it daily in their lives. Truly it would make a greater and better Macleod.

THE CHICKEN WAS FINE

The minister and his bride were preparing to eat a bite at a luncheonette. They were busily engaged with the bill of fare when the waitress, who was a much kalsomined and peroxided young miss, came up to take their order. Suddenly the young minister looked up from the bill of fare, smiled sweetly at the waitress, and said: "How is the chicken today?"

"Pretty good, kid," she retorted, "how are you?"
